OVERVIEW

Adam is a civil litigation attorney representing clients in a variety of matters, including complex commercial and business litigation, insurance defense, employment litigation, products liability, premises liability, auto liability, liquor liability (dram shop), and subrogation. He is involved in all phases of litigation in both the New York and Texas State Courts, including extensive law and motion practice, working with experts, attendance at court hearings and mediations, taking and defending depositions, trial preparation, and trial. With a proven track record, he is often called to appear in high-stakes litigation matters.

Prior to joining, Adam served as in-house counsel for multiple large insurance companies. In those roles, Adam engaged in the defense of civil litigation, including claims for personal injury, property damage, and the prosecution of claims for subrogated interests in both Texas and New York. Adam represented the insurer as a corporation and the insured customers in thousands of claims. Having litigated on both sides of the docket, he brings an aggressive style of litigation to the table along with insider knowledge.

Adam was recently recognized for the highest accumulation of subrogation recovery nationwide for a large insurance company in 2022 with over $4 million recovered. He has more than 8 years of experience litigating cases and has performed litigation case management including mediations, arbitration, depositions, examinations under oath, handling various motion practices and hearings, and conducting general trial preparation and trial performance.

He has taken more than a dozen cases to jury verdict, with positive results for his clients. His diverse skill set, and experience enable him to form profound connections while affecting the best promising outcome through his service as a trusted advocate and guardian of his clients' interests.

Regardless of the complexity of the matter, he approaches all cases from the client's perspective. Adam also uses his expertise to reach settlements and avoids litigation costs for his clients. The best results can be obtained by taking a progressive approach to the tried-and-true practices of the past, creating harmony where tradition meets innovation.

During his leisure time, Adam enjoys traveling abroad, skiing, acroyoga, soccer, dodgeball, and preparing for his next runner's marathon.
