OVERVIEW

Alexandra Mormile is an Associate in GRSM's New York office and a member of the Commercial Litigation Group. Throughout her career, Alexandra has worked exclusively in civil litigation across multiple firms representing both Plaintiffs and Defendants on various matters such as auto, premises, commercial, discrimination, matrimonial, contract, estate planning, to name a few. Today, Alexandra focuses her practice on complex general and commercial liability, professional liability and employment practice litigation within the insurance defense landscape. In addition, Alexandra brings unique experience to GRSM with her previous employment working in-house for a major insurance carrier.

Alexandra graduated with honors from the Elisabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University where she also served as an Articles Editor for the Pace Law Environmental Law Review. She also graduated as a New York State Pro Bono Scholar for which she completed 500+ hours of pro bono work prior to graduation.
