OVERVIEW

Ben Levine's reputation as a tenacious litigator and strategic problem-solver has earned him the confidence of high-profile athletes, entertainment power players, and global corporations. Whether leading high-stakes arbitrations, handling complex litigation in federal and state courts, or spearheading crisis management strategies, he brings an unmatched combination of legal acumen and discretion to every case. Ben is a force in sports, entertainment, employment, and commercial litigation, representing some of the biggest names in professional sports and business.

Licensed in New York, New Jersey, and Washington, D.C., Ben has successfully navigated internal investigations across multiple industries, helping companies and individuals mitigate risk and protect their interests. His ability to blend aggressive advocacy with behind-the-scenes finesse has made him an indispensable ally in the boardroom, the courtroom, and beyond.

Prior to joining GRSM, he participated in a fellowship with the New York State Department of Financial Services where he worked in their Financial Frauds and Consumer Protection Division. In connection with his fellowship, he oversaw and assisted in various investigations to halt deceptive business practices impacting the public.

Benjamin was also competitively selected to serve as a judicial intern for the Hon. Dennis Cavanaugh in the United States District Court of New Jersey.
