OVERVIEW

Bianca focuses her practice on commercial litigation, insurance defense, and complex civil matters. Prior to joining GRSM, Bianca founded and managed her own solo practice, where she led the defense and resolution of a broad range of criminal, civil, commercial disputes. She has won appeals before the Louisiana Fifth Circuit, including reversals of final judgments and emergency writs in criminal and civil matters. Her litigation experience includes favorable settlements in contractual disputes and trial victories in both bench and jury settings.

Bianca also served as Judicial Law Clerk to the Honorable Nandi F. Campbell at the Orleans Parish Criminal District Court, where she drafted rulings on complex pre-trial motions, evidentiary issues, and post-conviction relief, including high-stakes matters involving ineffective assistance of counsel and capital sentencing. She has litigated mid- to high-level felony cases and served as a litigation consultant to the New York City Department of Education, defending IDEA claims and negotiating high-volume settlements under strict regulatory oversight.

Bianca earned her J.D. from Loyola University New Orleans College of Law, where she was honored with the Order of Barristers and inducted into the St. Thomas Inns of Court. She was a national mock trial competitor and moot court coach, served of the A.P. Tureaud Chapter of the Black Law Student Association and Trial Advocacy President, and was recognized for her outstanding courtroom advocacy as the inaugural Harry Herman Excellence in Trial Advocacy Award recipient. She holds a B.A. in Political Science and Spanish from Xavier University of Louisiana, graduating cum laude.

She was named a Top 40 Young Lawyer under 40 by the Louisiana State Bar Association and has been recognized heavily for her leadership and service. Licensed in both Louisiana and the District of Columbia, she brings deep courtroom experience, business acumen, and trusted client advocacy to every matter she handles.
