OVERVIEW

As a former prosecutor, Cory knows how to build and try a case. Cory pairs that experience with excellent communication skills to provide exceptional service and get quality results for clients.

Cory is a member of the employment law and commercial litigation practice groups. Cory manages all facets of litigation including pleadings, dispositive motion practice, alternative dispute resolution, settlement negotiations, and trial.

Prior to GRSM, Cory was an Assistant Hennepin County Attorney and handled a large caseload of violent, felony offenses. Cory negotiated fair resolutions, litigated complex pre-trial issues, and tried multiple cases to verdict.

In law school, Cory was a member of the Moot Court team and won an award for the highest grade in an Appellate Level Writing Course. Outside of work, Cory is a die-hard Minnesota sports fan, an avid golfer and softball player, and a novice (but ambitious) skier.
