OVERVIEW

A seasoned tort and product liability attorney, Frederic Nicola has managed complex litigation matters to a diverse clientele, including high net worth individuals and multi-billion dollar corporations, within state and federal judicial systems, as well as alternative dispute resolution platforms. Frederic possesses deep experience in handling liability cases involving claims across various venues such as sports stadiums, entertainment centers, real estate portfolios and educational institutions.

Frederic's practice consists of conducting factual and legal research, interviewing witnesses, formulating and executing litigation strategies, and negotiating and drafting settlement agreements.

An effective communicator, Frederic maintains communication channels with stakeholders, including general counsel and company executives, to ensure strategic alignment and coordination of objectives and expectations.
