OVERVIEW

Jonathan X. Shi is an Associate in the Seattle office of GRSM and is a member of the Construction practice group. He brings a wide range of litigation experience to his practice, including complex research, analysis, and motions drafting.

Prior to joining GRSM, Jonathan worked at a Seattle-based construction law firm, where he focused on construction defect litigation and real estate disputes.

Jonathan earned his J.D. from the University of Washington School of Law, where he was Senior Managing Editor for the Washington International Law Journal. While attending law school, Jonathan worked in the Washington State Office of the Attorney General. He also served as a court-appointed mediator as part of the University of Washington's Mediation Clinic.
