OVERVIEW

Lauren Hofflin is an accomplished Associate attorney with a diverse background in criminal defense and civil litigation. Over the course of her career, Lauren has managed complex caseloads including federal cases and has achieved favorable outcomes in both court proceedings and negotiations.

With more than eight years of experience as a criminal defense attorney, Lauren has represented clients at every stage of their cases. This extensive experience has provided her with a solid foundation for navigating complex legal issues and advocating vigorously on behalf of clients. Her diverse practice areas have enabled her to develop a comprehensive approach to litigation, ensuring clients receive effective and strategic representation.

In addition to her work in private practice, Lauren is dedicated to pro bono service. She has represented asylum clients before Immigration Court and the Asylum Office, successfully securing asylum for individuals fleeing persecution. Additionally, she has provided pro bono legal assistance to low-income clients facing housing and civil challenges.
