OVERVIEW

Patrick Sbardelli is an Associate in the Boston office at GRSM. He is a member of the Construction practice group, representing architects, engineers, contractors and professionals in a variety of disputes.

Prior to joining GRSM, Patrick worked as a Project Manager and Owners Representative for complex, multi-million dollar design and construction projects including office spaces, courthouses and Land Ports of Entry. He has extensive practical experience with defective and deficient plans and specifications, construction defects, project delays, drafting contract documents and negotiating requests for equitable adjustment.
