Located in Alaska's largest city and business hub, GRSM's Anchorage office serves clients throughout the state. The office was established in 2019 to expand our 50 state platform and serve local businesses. Our Anchorage attorneys are well-versed in local and federal laws governing commercial interests in Alaska.

GRSM's Anchorage attorneys handle complex litigation for individuals and private entities. Areas of focus include banking and finance, construction, consumer protection litigation, employment, labor, and government contracts.

Our attorneys have substantial experience representing financial institutions, utility providers, and contractors. We can address a wide range of legal and regulatory issues.

We are active members of the Alaska Bar Association and Anchorage Bar Association. GRSM's attorneys participate in local legal seminars and community service projects, contributing to the development and support of Anchorage's legal community.

*Allen Estes is not admitted to practice in Alaska.
