Since its founding in 2008, the Chicago office has been a cornerstone of GRSM's national platform, growing into one of the firm's largest locations. It is also recognized as one of the fastest-growing law offices in the City of Big Shoulders. Our team of seasoned trial attorneys, litigators, and transactional lawyers is dedicated to delivering exceptional service and results.

We represent a broad spectrum of clients, from individuals and private businesses to public corporations and government agencies, handling litigation matters in the areas of construction, commercial, cyber and data privacy, employment, environmental and toxic tort, healthcare, insurance, product liability, professional liability, and trucking and transportation. Our trial counsel have secured favorable verdicts in high-stakes cases in state and federal courts nationwide.

Additionally, the Chicago office is home to a team of seasoned business transaction lawyers who provide valuable insight to companies small and large, including business formation and structure, serving as outside general counsel, drafting and negotiating commercial contracts, raising capital, banking and financing needs, commercial real estate, equipment financing and leasing, and mergers and acquisitions.

Beyond its legal acumen, the Chicago office is proud to stand as a beacon of the firm's core values: inclusivity, community involvement, and unwavering client commitment. The Chicago office regularly participates in and supports the Chicago Bar Foundation, Chicago Volunteer Legal Services, Cabrini Green Legal Aid, the Settlement Assistance Project for the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, as well as a variety of local and national not-for-profit organizations.

The office recently relocated to UBS Tower, one of only seven A+ trophy buildings that define the skyline of the city's famed central business district, the Loop. The new office's warm and inviting atmosphere includes a large social lounge ideal for meeting with clients and hosting events.
