GRSM's Jackson office supports local, regional, and national clients needing commercial legal services in Mississippi's capital city and throughout the state. Our attorneys routinely defend employers, manufacturers, insurers, professional service providers, property owners, and many others, advancing our clients' legal portfolios in complex civil litigation in state and federal courts, as well as before federal and state administrative agencies.

Our experience extends across many practice areas including commercial litigation, employment law, insurance bad faith, premises liability, construction, product and general liability, consumer protection, intellectual property, professional liability, environmental and toxic tort, breach of warranty, and breach of fiduciary duty.

With extensive ties to the business community in Mississippi and the Southeast, the Jackson team is an important part of our 50 state platform, with attorneys frequently collaborating with clients and colleagues in Atlanta, Birmingham, Nashville, Houston, New Orleans, and nationwide.
