When GRSM opened its New Orleans office in 2018, our Louisiana foothold became the 51st location in our 50-state, full-service platform. The legal bench here is a diverse mix of natives of the Bayou State, graduates of Louisiana universities and law schools, and lawyers who practice in state and federal courts across the Gulf Coast and the South.

Maritime, energy and offshore services, construction, and hospitality are among the locally rooted industries of our clients. Commercial leasing, including for national clients, and real estate disputes are an area of strength.

Our attorneys' broad range of practices also includes commercial litigation, environmental, toxic tort, and occupational disease litigation, trucking and transportation, product and general liability, employment law, medical device, and insurance defense.

GRSM's 50 state platform thrives here, with our Gulf Coast attorneys collaborating with clients and colleagues spanning from San Diego to Atlanta. Many of our New Orleans lawyers hold multiple licenses, including in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Mississippi.

We are proud to support the Louisiana State Bar Association, to serve as law school instructors, and to contribute to our civic institutions and business communities.
