Located near Wall Street in Manhattan, GRSM's New York office serves clients throughout the city and the broader Tri-State area. This well-staffed office represents national and international business clients and plays an integral role in our firmwide 50 state network of services to clients.

GRSM's New York attorneys handle a busy portfolio of litigation and transactions and resolve complex legal issues. Many cases tried here carry national significance. We are a familiar presence in state and federal courts and enjoy productive relationships within New York's legal community.

Areas of focus include employment litigation, commercial litigation, professional liability defense, tort and products liability, aviation law, appellate law, business transactions, real estate, bankruptcy, sports law, trust and estates, hospitality, intellectual property, and environmental toxic tort.

Like several GRSM locations, the New York office is co-managed by two women, whose leadership serves as an example in the industry. They have guided this high-profile workspace into a top-performing model of a modern law firm that has earned us a reputation as a legal powerhouse.

Many professionals on our New York team earned their degrees in the state and draw from their backgrounds in private practice, as in-house counsel, and in government service. Since opening the office in 2015, we have become active members of the New York State Bar Association, are media commentators on legal events, and are enthusiastic participants in pro bono work and charitable events.
