Our attorneys from the capital city office in Oklahoma City work statewide to represent and advise clients in energy, insurance, construction, agribusiness, transportation, and information technology, among other sectors.

Complex civil litigation is a practice emphasis, and we are home to trial lawyers who have achieved early dismissals and favorable outcomes in high-exposure lawsuits in state and federal courts. Employment law, professional liability defense, healthcare, and construction defect claims are areas of focus.

Our clients range from startups and nonprofits to small and large businesses, major Fortune 500 companies, and leading national and international insurers. Many attorneys in the Oklahoma City office, which opened in 2017, collaborate with colleagues in Dallas and throughout Texas, Arkansas, and Missouri.

Our Tulsa location offers further convenience for clients and colleagues in Oklahoma and extends GRSM's 50 state, full-service platform across the region and the United States.
