GRSM's Vermont office, located in Shelburne, serves our national clients and insurers with legal challenges in the state and across New England. Our Vermont attorneys collaborate closely with the firm's complex litigation and trial teams from the Boston and Hartford offices to leverage the best results possible for our clients.

We have notable practice depth in employment, civil rights, and housing discrimination defense litigation. Our Vermont counsel are also experienced in real estate, as well as energy and utility infrastructure project permitting.

Combining the strength and resources of our national platform with the local knowledge and relationships of our Vermont attorneys, GRSM's Vermont office stands ready to help our clients overcome legal challenges wherever they may arise.
