GRSM's Silicon Valley office captures the innovative spirit of its surroundings, bringing our full-service capabilities to one of the world's leading technology regions. Located in the heart of Palo Alto, the office strengthens our presence in Northern California, enabling us to collaborate more closely with local companies, emerging startups, and established industry leaders.

Our Silicon Valley team covers a diverse range of legal services, including intellectual property, employment law, cyber security, healthcare, construction, retail and hospitality, and more.

The Silicon Valley office embraces GRSM's commitment to a flexible, forward-thinking work environment. It features state-of-the-art amenities like private collaboration rooms and open meeting spaces that encourage creative problem-solving. Attorneys and staff here represent a mix of established talent and the next wave of GRSM leaders.

We maintain a friendly, collaborative atmosphere that fosters both professional development and camaraderie. Attorneys and professional staff benefit from the office's accessible location, which allows for seamless integration with GRSM's broader Bay Area operations, particularly with our San Francisco and Walnut Creek hubs.

As part of our commitment to the local community, our Silicon Valley office participates in regional initiatives that support innovation, diversity, and professional growth. We are proud to be recognized as one of the region's leading law firms, supporting clients and colleagues across all 50 states.
