From our location in eastern Washington, GRSM's Spokane attorneys extend our full-service platform to the Pacific Northwest's inland region, including Northern Idaho. Our versatile team of professionals exemplifies and supports the firm's 50 state platform for representation in high-stakes civil litigation and business transactions.

Areas of practice emphasis are employment law, complex litigation, education, insurance, product liability, and general liability matters. Lawyers here are also active in construction law, cannabis law, and government contracts work.

We opened the office in 2021 to extend our Washington footprint, and GRSM professionals in Spokane offer a variety of experiences and backgrounds. Many are graduates of Washington colleges and law schools, and we participate in the Washington State Bar Association. Our Spokane office is home to military veterans, fellows in the American College of Coverage Counsel, and a former assistant attorney general for the State of Washington.

Collectively, we work efficiently and collaborate with colleagues in Seattle, the Tri-Cities, Oregon, and throughout the region and the United States.
