GRSM's office in Westchester County exemplifies the depth and breadth of our legal bench in New York and the Northeast. Our Harrison location provides convenience and efficiency for clients and attorneys working in the Manhattan area and beyond. Home to experienced commercial litigators, trial lawyers tested in federal and state courts, and transactional lawyers, our Westchester office extends GRSM's full-service, 50 state platform to wherever legal challenges arise for clients.

We represent private, public, and municipal clients in civil and commercial actions. Construction, trucking, and transportation legal disputes and related claims are notable areas of depth, particularly high exposure demands in vehicular accidents and construction defect claims.

Another industry focus is on the aesthetics sector, which includes formation, licensing, and regulatory compliance counsel to medical spas.

Additional practice strengths include employment law, professional liability defense, healthcare transactions and regulations, intellectual property, product liability, premises liability, contract disputes, and non-compete agreements.

GRSM's Westchester office, opened since 2016, has benefited from the long tenure of its office leaders, which makes for a stable and inviting culture. We pursue pro bono and civic commitments in organizations throughout our communities. Our attorneys are members of the Westchester Women's Bar Association and Westchester County Bar Association, as well as national legal and business associations that align with our clients' needs.
