OVERVIEW

Engaging GRSM's commercial litigation team sends a strong message. Our lawyers litigate high-stakes claims in every substantive area of commercial law and in every sector of the economy. We believe that every case gains a competitive advantage when your adversary knows you can take it to trial, whether the matter ultimately ends up in court or in a settlement. Our powerhouse of accomplished trial attorneys pioneer national, integrated strategies to handle major cases and large portfolios of related litigation efficiently. Our winning defenses in sophisticated cases have allowed clients to prevail when their competitors did not.

With more than 700 lawyers in our practice, we are one of the largest, most experienced and most diverse commercial litigation teams in the country. Collaborating closely with our clients, we utilize creative dispositive motions, innovative deposition tactics, well-crafted trial strategies, and focused and effective appeals to fight for our clients in all 50 states. Importantly, we keep our clients involved and informed every step of the way.

We have a deep bench of litigators with extensive first-chair trial experience. In our representation of global brands, major institutions and national clients, we have led dozens of trials each year and have a track record of achieving favorable results in complex cases, including:

- Antitrust
- Bankruptcy and creditors' rights
- Class actions
- Consumer product and services litigation
- Contracts and business disputes
- Data privacy and cybersecurity
- Directors & Officers litigation
- Franchise law
- Multidistrict litigation
- Product defect litigation
- Shareholder litigation

Recognized in the top tier of national commercial litigation practices by U.S. News and Best Law Firms®, GRSM represents clients in finance, real estate, manufacturing, life sciences, entertainment, retail and other sectors.

LEADERSHIP IN MULTIJURISDICTION LITIGATION

Whether you are a Fortune 100 company or a small business, a single partner serves as your main point of contact at GRSM.

Working from the top, we identify your business goals, analyze risk, estimate time and budget, and provide realistic outcome scenarios. And then we marshal the right team to tailor a strategic path for success. Our model is particularly effective when clients face similar challenges in several jurisdictions, in class actions, or in multidistrict litigation.

EARLY RESOLUTIONS BACKED BY TRIAL READINESS

Clients appreciate our creativity in eliminating claims at the earliest possible stage.

We aggressively pursue strategies that could lead to a favorable resolution before trial, limit the issues at trial, or lead to a favorable settlement. And when your case goes to trial or arbitration, we have the experience and depth to present the most complicated cases to judges, juries and mediators successfully.

The lawyers who have handled your case from the start are in most cases the lawyers who take the case to trial. Whether applied to high-demand individual lawsuits or multiparty actions, our approach adds consistency and impact while reducing surprises, miscommunication and duplicative efforts.

Our centralized model has led to novel and winning defenses in scores of complex class actions, such as litigation related to consumer product labels and retailers' privacy practices, to name a few recent successes. Faced with the toughest situations, our clients count on us being trial ready, in every corner of the country, and for candid, pragmatic and objective guidance at every step of litigation.
