

Entertainment & Recreation

RELATED SERVICES

- Casualty
- Commercial Litigation
- Employment
- Entertainment
- Fashion
- Intellectual Property Litigation
- Intellectual Property Transactions
- Labor
- Media
- Professional Liability Coverage
- Sports

CONTACTS

Philip Robert Brinson
Partner

OVERVIEW

GRSM's entertainment team sets the stage for the comprehensive legal services they perform for the diverse range of participants at every level in the high-profile, global, multi-billion dollar industries of entertainment, fashion, media, and sports, as well as their insurers. Our team navigates the complex legal challenges these interrelated industries face, including an extraordinary number of casualty, employment, media, and professional liability claims handled by specialty lines for every major insurance provider. We are frequently called upon by our clients to leverage our extensive resources to successfully address the unique, industry-specific challenges encountered in these highly focused practice areas.

GRSM's star studded team of talented attorneys who have dedicated their practices to the entertainment, fashion, media, and sports industries. Our winning style distinguishes us from boutique law firms and solo practitioners, as our teams are supported by the resources of a multi-office, full-service network of attorneys, creating a formidable advocate capable of providing the variety of legal services our clients require. Thanks to our firm's unique infrastructure and 50 State foothold, we can offer top-tier legal services that our entertainment industry clients expect at competitive rates in all major industry hubs across the nation, including Hollywood, New York, Austin, Nashville, Chicago, Miami and all locations where the magic is created.

Our practice teams have extensive experience representing Grammy® and Emmy® award-winning performers, producers, directors, managers, studios, agents, set designers, and writers in the motion picture and television industry; recording artists, producers, managers, agents, and songwriters in the music industry; models, agencies, designers, manufacturers, and producers in the fashion industry; authors, publishers, photographers, agencies, and illustrators in the print and online media industry; and athletes, coaches, managers, and teams across a range of professional and amateur sports. If that was not awesome enough, we have vast experience in providing legal services to the locations and venues where our clients create their art and display their talents, including music and film festivals, theaters, stadiums, nightclubs, live music venues, amusement parks, and rodeo arenas.